

If I Were Trapped in the Same Day...

What would you do if you were trapped in the same day, obliged to go through the same things over and over? The majority's view on this issue may vary from one to another. And from my perspective, there would be a variety of things waiting for me to do.

In the first place, I would try all manner of games and food, by which I am capable of enjoying my life to its fullest. As Lincoln once said, happiness is a very idealistic thing. Why can't I take advantage of this splendid opportunity and release myself? Just do what I want to, and enjoy myself. Only in this way can we gain the hard won freedom with our mood delighted, soul relaxed and mind liberated.

Moreover, I would spare no efforts to strengthen myself incessantly. Just like the leading character in Groundhog Day, who got tired of the endless loop increasingly and determined to change himself eventually, we are expected to have more good deeds. Specifically speaking, we should not only strive to promote ourselves from every aspect, but also remember always keeping favorable intentions . When everyone around us tends to treat us friendly, we will comprehend the extraordinary glory from the bottle of heart.

In conclusion, there would be a sea of gorgeous things I could do if I were trapped in the same day. Nevertheless, I am firmly convinced that it is the happiness of releasing myself as well as raising my self-worth that really counts. Just be a better person, and the goddess will come to you.
